

i-Box

Security, environmental monitoring and remote site monitoring

Safeguard equipment and systems with security, environmental and remote site monitoring all in one

The i-Box provides true RFID access control security, intrusion, environmental monitoring and remote-site monitoring within a single small boxed solution. Each i-Box has a built-in temperature, light level and internal voltage sensor - with 14 ports for plug and play connection of additional smart sensors, together with two access control ports.

System Features

- Each i-Box has a built-in temperature, humidity, light level and internal voltage sensor
- 14 ports for plug and play connection of additional smart sensors, as well as 2 access control ports
- The i-Box provides extensive environmental monitoring: using strategically placed smart sensors, the system administrator has a clear picture of the condition within multiple parts of each area
- The i-Box monitors temperature, humidity, power, flood, smoke, hot spots and others, preventing environmental conditions exceeding recommended thresholds
- The i-Box can measure the temperature between equipment, providing early warning of a potential problem

Typical Applications

- computer rooms • cabinet enclosures • asset protection like servers
- network infra-structures and other business-critical assets
- flood detection
